"A nation, as a society, forms a moral person, and every member of it is personally responsible for his society."

-- Thomas Jefferson