"The strongest bond of human sympathy outside the family relation should be one uniting working people of all nations and tongues and kindreds."

-- Abraham Lincoln